Holidays and historical homes

The Pappas family (photo top) show off their comfortable and warm fireplace and sitting area at their home, located at 86 View St. Their home was part of the Fitchburg Historical Society's annual house tour, held recently.

FREE H1N1 AND SEASONAL FLU CLINICS

Vaccination clinics for H1N1 and seasonal flu will be offered in Fitchburg and Gardner next week. The clinics are for those six months to 24 years old and high-risk adults. For guidelines on what constitutes a high-risk adult, visit www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/highrisk.htm. If your child is receiving the second dose of the H1N1 vaccine, bring documentation of the first dose.

In Fitchburg, the clinics will be held at the CHC Fitchburg Community Health Center, located in the Bullock Building Lobby, 275 Nichols Road, on Dec. 14, 15, and 16 from 4 to 6:30 p.m.

In Gardner, clinics will be held at Mount Wachusett Community College, 444 Green St. on Dec. 15 from 2 to 5 p.m. at Waterford Street Elementary School, 62 Waterford St., on Dec. 16, from 4 to 6:30 p.m. The seasonal vaccine given on Dec. 15 is available for the elder population only.

The H1N1 flu clinics are a public service made possible through the partnership and generosity of the following organizations: City of Fitchburg Board of Health & Emergency Management; City of Gardner, Board of Health; Fitchburg Public Schools; Gardner Public Schools; HealthAlliance Hospital; IC Federal Credit Union; Mount Wachusett Community College; UMass Fitchburg Family Medicine Residency Community Health Centers, Gardner and Fitchburg.
