

'Singing Trooper' rocks Carter Park

SENTINEL & ENTERPRISE

PHOTOS/CHARLES STERNAMOLO

Leominster's Carter Park hosted singer Dan Clark, also known as the "Singing Trooper," on Sunday. Above, he solos, while, at right, he and his wife, Mary, perform a duet. Despite cool temperatures, the patriotic concert was attended by more 60 people who came out to enjoy the music. The event was organized by Mike Cooley, of Leominster Access TV's "Cool Talk."

